NEW YORK UNIVERSITY

More than 175 years ago, Albert Gallatin, the distinguished statesman who served as secretary of the treasury under Presidents Thomas Jefferson and James Madison, declared his intention to establish "in this immense and fast-growing city ... a system of rational and practical education fitting for all and graciously opened to all." Founded in 1831, New York University is now one of the largest private universities in the United States. Of the more than 3,000 colleges and universities in the country, New York University is one of only 60 member institutions of the distinguished Association of American Universities.

The University includes numerous schools, colleges, and institutes at major centers in Manhattan, Brooklyn, Abu Dhabi (UAE), and Shanghai. In addition, the University operates a branch campus program in Rockland County at St. Thomas Aquinas College. Certain of the University's research facilities, notably the Nelson Institute of Environmental Medicine, are located in Sterling Forest, near Tuxedo, New York. Although overall the University is large, the divisions are small- to moderate-sized units—each with its own traditions, programs, and faculty.

The University offers more than 6,000 courses and grants more than 25 different degrees.

Since its founding, New York University has been a private university. It operates under a board of trustees and derives its income from tuition, endowment, grants from private foundations and government, and gifts from friends, alumni, corporations, and other private philanthropic sources.

The University is committed to a policy of equal treatment and opportunity in every aspect of its relations with its faculty, students, and staff members, without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender and/or gender identity or expression, marital or parental status, national origin, ethnicity, citizenship status, veteran or military status, age, disability, and any other legally protected basis.

Inquiries regarding the application of the federal laws and regulations concerning affirmative action and antidiscrimination policies and procedures at New York University may be referred to Mary Signor, Executive Director, Office of Equal Opportunity, New York University, 726 Broadway, 7th Floor, New York, NY 10003; 212.998.2352. Inquiries may also be referred to the director of the Office of Federal Contract Compliance, U.S. Department of Labor.

New York University is a member of the Association of American Universities and is accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools (Commission on Higher Education of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools, 3624 Market Street, Philadelphia, PA 19104; 215.662.5606). Individual undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs and schools are accredited by the appropriate specialized accrediting agencies.

THE ROBERT F. WAGNER GRADUATE SCHOOL OF PUBLIC SERVICE

New York University's Robert F. Wagner Graduate School of Public Service (NYU Wagner) prepares public service leaders to translate ideas into actions that have an effective and lasting impact on the public good. The school was named for the three-term mayor of New York, Robert F. Wagner, who was renowned for his honesty, compassion, and commitment to public service—ideals that continue to inspire and shape the NYU Wagner community today.

Established in 1938, NYU Wagner offers Master of Public Administration, Master of Urban Planning, Executive Master of Public Administration, and Doctor of Philosophy degree programs. Through these rigorous programs, students gain critical skills, a deep understanding of context surrounding public service challenges, and access to all New York City has to offer—which they can apply to cities across the globe.

Our diverse student body enjoys an open, interactive educational setting that blends theory in the classroom with practice in the field. The majority of students work in some capacity while in school, which enhances the educational experience and allows students to hone their skills in real time. Located in the heart of New York City, one of the world's great metropolises, and surrounded by hundreds of thousands of public service jobs, NYU Wagner is perfectly positioned to prepare future public service leaders to create positive change.

RESEARCH, ASSOCIATED, AND ADJUNCT FACULTY

The current list is available at wagner.nyu.edu/faculty/directory/adjunctClinicRes.php

(Note: There are approximately 175 adjunct faculty members teaching at NYU Wagner.)

GENERAL ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Admission to NYU Wagner requires submitting a completed online application with the following components: a bachelor's degree academic transcript showing the degree conferral date, two letters of recommendation, essays, and a resume. There is also an optional video essay component. Further information and application deadlines can be found at wagner.nyu.edu/admissions.

Admission decisions are based on the submitted application materials and include an assessment of academic potential, impact on public service to date, and fit with the school community.

DESCRIPTION AND REQUIREMENTS OF ACADEMIC PROGRAMS

A. DEGREE: MASTER OF PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION (MPA)

Public and Nonprofit Management and Policy Program

The oldest degree program at NYU Wagner, the Master of Public Administration in Public and Nonprofit Management and Policy (MPA-PNP) is rooted in a foundation of management, policy, and finance. Students learn a broad skill set that they can transfer to the many roles, organizations, and sectors that their careers will span. The program is designed to prepare students for work in diverse public service settings, including federal, state, and local governments; nonprofit institutions; foundations; international organizations; and private sector companies doing public service work.

Students in the MPA-PNP program focus on one of four areas of specialization: management of public and nonprofit organizations, financial management and public finance, public policy, or international policy and management. In addition, students are able to choose from a wide selection of elective courses and either cluster their courses around a single topic (e.g. economic development and housing; education policy; international development; public and nonprofit management and organizations; race, class, and diversity) or select more varied courses.

Graduates of the program play significant roles across the public service arena, including redeveloping neighborhoods, advocating for social justice, and providing vital human and social services at nonprofits, consulting firms, private organizations, and government agencies.

(Note: The MPA degree is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration.)

Health Policy and Management Program

In 1970, NYU Wagner established the Master of Public Administration in Health Policy and Management (MPA-HPAM) in recognition of the special skills needed to lead in the healthcare sector. Located in a school of public service, rather than in a medical or public health school, the program crosses traditional boundaries, linking management, finance, and policy. Students gain the cutting-edge concepts and skills needed to shape the future of health policy and management, both nationally and internationally.

Students in the program are required to declare a specialization in health services management, health policy analysis, health financial management, health public finance, or international health policy and management. The HPAM program is led by a distinct faculty group, but it uses all the resources and courses offered by NYU Wagner, as well as courses in other graduate and professional schools of the University.

The curriculum prepares graduates to meet the challenges of the rapidly evolving healthcare world—in hospitals, health maintenance organizations, government institutions, managed care networks, and nonprofit and for-profit health institutions.

(Note: The MPA degree is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration. The management specialization of the MPA-HPAM program is accredited by the Commission for the Accreditation of Health Management Education.)

Requirements of the MPA Public and Nonprofit Policy and Management Program and MPA Health Policy and Management Program

The MPA-PNP and MPA-HPAM programs require completion of 45 credits with a B (3.0) or better cumulative grade point average. A minimum of 33 credits must be completed while matriculated in NYU Wagner. All degree requirements must be completed within five years—no credit toward the degree will be granted for course work completed more than five years before the granting of the degree. This also applies to transfer credit. Up to 12 credits of suitable transfer credit from graduate coursework may be used to meet degree requirements, provided that they were not part of a previous master's degree, the credits were earned in the past five years, and the grade earned was B or higher. The complete transfer credit policy can be found at wagner.nyu.edu/students/policies/transfer.

The academic work includes (a) five required core courses (15 credits); (b) four to five specialization courses (12 to 15 credits), dependent on the specific requirements of the specialization; (c) a Capstone end event (3 credits), which is taken over the fall and spring semesters; and (d) elective coursework, (12 to 15 credits, dependent on the specific requirements of the specialization).

Waivers

Students who have acquired knowledge of the subject matter of any of the core courses prior to enrolling at NYU Wagner are encouraged to consider applying for a waiver. In order to be waived from a course, students need to review the relevant waiver policy on the Wagner website and submit the proper materials to the Office of Student and Program Services. Course waivers do not reduce the 45-credit degree requirement, but they do provide students with the opportunity to take additional electives.

Statistical Software Proficiency

In order to graduate, all students must demonstrate computer proficiency in statistical software. Students who take CORE-GP 1011 Statistical Methods are required to complete an SPSS lab as part of the course. Students who pass Statistical Methods are considered proficient in statistical software.

Students who waive out of Statistical Methods must demonstrate proficiency in statistical software by taking and passing the computer-based NONCR-GP 938 SPSS Proficiency Exam, or by successfully completing PADM-GP 2902 Multiple Regression and Introduction to Econometrics. To prepare for the proficiency exam, students may register for the optional NONCR-GP 931 SPSS Computer Module offered every semester.

Specialization

Students fulfill the requirements of one of the areas of specialization within the program.

Elective Courses

Students have a certain number of elective credits that provide them with the opportunity to gain additional expertise in important areas, depending on their degree requirements. With approval, students may take graduate-level courses at other NYU graduate schools. Language courses may not count toward the MPA degree.

Capstone Requirement

Over the course of an academic year, students work in teams either to address challenges and identify opportunities for a client organization or to conduct research on a pressing social question. Students must quickly become familiar with an issue or content area; demonstrate skills, such as project management and teamwork; and effectively gather, analyze, and present data. Some students elect to undertake an applied research project instead of the client project.

Professional Experience Requirement

Students are required to graduate with field experience that is relevant to their degree program. MPA-PNP and MPA-HPAM students who enter their program with fewer than two years of full-time relevant experience are required to start an internship or work experience relevant to their area of study prior to enrollment in Capstone.

(Note: MPA-PNP and MPA-HPAM students commencing study in the spring semester will require two and one-half years to complete the program due to course sequencing.)

Schoolwide Core Courses

The following are the five required core courses that must be taken by all MPA-PNP and MPA-HPAM students, unless waived.

- CORE-GP 1011 Statistical Methods for Public, Nonprofit, and Health Management

(Note: Students who take and pass CORE-GP 1011 Statistical Methods are required to complete an SPSS lab as part of the course and are considered proficient in statistical software. Students who waive out of CORE-GP 1011 Statistical Methods are required to demonstrate their proficiency with statistical software. These students must pass the NONCR-GP 938 SPSS proficiency exam prior to the end of their second semester, or complete PADM-GP 2902 Multiple Regression and Introduction to Econometrics.)

- CORE-GP 1018 Microeconomics for Public Management, Planning, and Policy Analysis
- CORE-GP 1020 Managing Public Service Organizations
- CORE-GP 1021 Financial Management for Public, Nonprofit, and Health Organizations
- CORE-GP 1022 Introduction to Public Policy

Public and Nonprofit Program Areas of Specializations in Public Finance and Policy

Students must select an area of specialization: management for public and nonprofit organizations, public policy analysis, finance, or international policy and management.

For detailed information about the areas of specialization and to download the relevant Program Requirement Checksheets, visit wagner.nyu.edu/mpa.

1. Management for Public and Nonprofit Organizations

The management specialization prepares students to lead and manage in and across sectors. The curriculum begins with the premise that the public, nonprofit, and private sectors are inextricably linked, and that managers and leaders in one sector need to understand the demands and constraints of the other sectors. To help students develop the appropriate breadth and depth of skills after completing the core management course, CORE-GP 1020 Managing Public Service Organizations, the curriculum is arranged in three areas of expertise: Strategy and Organizations, Human Resources and Organizational Behavior, and Performance Management and Operations. Each area of expertise is organized around a cluster of courses and contains one course that is required for students specializing in management.

Graduates of the management specialization are in a variety of careers such as program management, research management, budget analysis, fund-raising and development, public affairs, and advocacy.

Core Management Specialization Courses

- PADM-GP 2110 Strategic Management
- PADM-GP 2135 Developing Human Resources
- PADM-GP 2170 Performance Measurement and Management

Students must also take a total of six credits from the approved list of management courses listed in the Program Requirement Checksheets.

2. Finance for Public and Nonprofit Organizations

This specialization provides the concepts and skills needed for careers that focus on financial management and public finance. Students study the field of finance from both an internal management perspective and an external policy approach, preparing them to move into many types of finance positions. Public sector financial management and public finance positions are located in government, private, and nonprofit organizations.

Graduates of the finance specialization have a wide array of careers, such as budget officers and analysts, consultants, finance directors, grants managers, program auditors, financial analysts, bond raters, investment bankers, and bond insurance underwriters.

Core Required Finance Specialization Courses

- PADM-GP 2140 Public Economics & Finance
- PADM-GP 2902 Multiple Regression and Introduction to Econometrics
- PADM-GP 4130 Fundamentals of Accounting

Students must also take a total of nine credits from the approved list of finance courses in the Program Requirement Checksheets.

3. Public Policy Analysis

The Public Policy specialization prepares students to play a role in policy debate and deliberation by developing critical conceptual, analytical, and quantitative skills. By studying the application of social science theories and methods to the analysis of issues of public importance, students are able to develop and assess alternative policy responses to public issues and urban problems.

Policy specialization graduates serve in positions such as policy analyst, program auditor and evaluator, and legislative aide.

Core Required Policy Specialization Courses

- PADM-GP 2140 Public Economics and Finance
- PADM-GP 2171 Program Analysis and Evaluation
- PADM-GP 2902 Multiple Regression and Introduction to Econometrics

Health Policy and Management Program Core and Areas of Specialization

Core Health Courses

The following courses are required of all HPAM students:

HPAM-GP 1830 Introduction to Health Policy and Management or HPAM-GP 1831 Introduction to Global Health Policy and HPAM-GP 4830 Health Economics: Principles.

In addition to the core health courses, students must select an area of specialization: health services management, health policy analysis, health finance (either Health Services Financial Management or Health Care Public Finance), or international health. With approval, students also have the opportunity to design a customized area of specialization appropriate to their interests and career plans.

For detailed information about the areas of specialization and to download the relevant Program Requirement Checksheet, visit wagner.nyu.edu/health.

1. Health Policy Analysis

This specialization focuses on the development and evaluation of health policies and programs. Emphasis is placed on developing policy analytic skills, including evaluation design, descriptive and multivariate statistics, program implementation analysis, policy formation assessment, and cost-benefit analysis. Policy analysts are concerned with the development and evaluation of strategies to improve the functioning of the healthcare delivery system. Students are prepared to work across the healthcare sector, including in a government agency responsible for regulating and financing health services, an organization that provides healthcare services, a nonprofit service organization, or a professional association or foundation. Job responsibilities often include the development and analysis of data to support policy initiatives; an assessment of new healthcare initiatives using techniques such as cost-benefit analysis, program evaluation, and implementation analysis; and the development of formal health plans to anticipate future needs for healthcare resources.

Specific topics include financial and managerial accounting, financial statements, business plans, budgeting, capital planning, cost accounting, managerial control, and working capital management and payment systems. Financial managers measure the flow of funds into and out of an organization, plan for investments in buildings and new technology, and forecast future surpluses and deficits for an organization as a whole and its various departments. Financial managers work closely with accountants, administrators, computer programmers, records managers, and planners whose decisions have a considerable impact on the financial status of organizations. They, in turn, rely on the financial manager's skills and advice to assist them in fulfilling their responsibilities.

Core Required Health Financial Management Specialization Courses

B. DEGREE: MASTER OF URBAN PLANNING

As our global population becomes increasingly urban, new challenges, opportunities, and needs arise that today's planners must be able to address. The Master of Urban Planning (MUP) degree program prepares future public service leaders to design and build urban landscapes in the context of the real world. Students learn a holistic approach to the built environment—how people interact with it, live in it, and are shaped by it.

Housed within a school of public service, rather than a school of architecture, the MUP program uses the broader contexts of policy, management, and finance to prepare students with the analytical skills, substantive knowledge, and critical thinking they need to be successful planners. Major areas of emphasis in the MUP curriculum include environmental planning, infrastructure planning, housing, urban economic development, and international urbanization. As part of the training for professional planning practice, most students have the opportunity to obtain hands-on experience during the course of study through internships, summer jobs, and part-time jobs in planning organizations and research assistantships with the school. The program culminates in a Capstone course, where students turn classroom learning into practice. Working in teams, students spend an academic year addressing challenges and identifying opportunities for client organizations—in a complex and real-world environment. Students must quickly become familiar with an issue or content area; demonstrate skills, such as project management and teamwork; and effectively gather, analyze, and present data. Some students elect to undertake an applied research project instead of the client project.

Graduates of the MUP degree program are employed by leading consulting firms; financial institutions; community development organizations; and governmental organizations at local, state, and federal levels; among other institutions.

Note: The MUP degree is accredited by the Planning Accreditation Board (PAB), sponsored jointly by the American Institute of Certified Planners and the Association of Collegiate Schools of Planning in coordination with the American Planning Association. It constitutes credit toward membership in the American Institute of Certified Planners.

Degree Requirements for the Master of Urban Planning

The Master of Urban Planning requires completion of 45 credits with a B (3.0) or better cumulative grade point average. A minimum of 33 credits must be completed while matriculated at NYU Wagner. All degree requirements must be completed within five years—no credit toward the degree will be granted for course work completed more than five years before the granting of the degree. This also applies to transfer credit. Up to 12 credits of suitable transfer credit from graduate coursework may be used to meet degree requirements, provided that they were not part of a previous master's degree, the credits were earned in the past five years, and the grade earned was B or higher. The complete transfer credit policy is posted at wagner.nyu.edu/students/policies/transfer.

All MUP students are required to complete four schoolwide core courses, five urban planning core courses, and demonstrate computer proficiency. The required planning courses deal with urban planning and its political context, and emphasize quantitative and economic methods of analysis in urban planning. MUP students then select one area of specialization from the following three: Environment, Infrastructure, and Transportation; Economic Development and Housing; or International Development Planning.

The academic coursework requirement includes (a) four schoolwide core courses (12 credits); (b) five required urban planning core courses for the specialization (15 credits); (c) a required Capstone experience in the form of a professional practice (3 credits); and (d) 15 credits of elective courses in urban planning or related subjects.

Waivers

Students who have acquired knowledge of the subject matter of any of the core courses prior to enrolling at NYU Wagner are encouraged to consider applying for a waiver. In order to be waived from a course, students need to review the relevant waiver policy on the NYU Wagner website and submit the proper materials to the Office of Student and Program Services. Course waivers do not reduce the 45-credit degree requirement, but they do provide students with the opportunity to take additional electives.

Statistical Software Proficiency

In order to graduate, all students must demonstrate computer proficiency in statistical software. Students who take CORE-GP 1011 Statistical Methods are required to complete an SPSS lab as part of the course. Students who pass Statistical Methods are considered proficient in statistical software. Students who waive out of Statistical Methods must demonstrate proficiency in statistical software by taking and passing the computer-based NONCR-GP 938 SPSS Proficiency Exam, or by successfully completing PADM-GP 2902 Multiple Regression and Introduction to Econometrics. To prepare for the proficiency exam, students may register for the optional NONCR-GP 931 SPSS Computer Module offered every semester.

Elective Courses and Specialization

Elective courses are organized in three areas of emphasis, and students are advised to concentrate in one of these areas: (1) environment, infrastructure, and transportation planning; (2) economic development and housing; or (3) international development planning. All students are also urged to take one or more courses in geographic information systems. Although specific elective course work is not required of urban planning students, clustering electives is encouraged as a way of obtaining expertise in a specialized area. Students have a certain number of elective credits that provide them with the opportunity to gain additional expertise in important areas. With approval, students may take graduate-level courses at other NYU graduate schools. Language courses may not count toward the MUP degree.

Capstone Requirement

Over the course of an academic year, students work in teams to either address challenges and identify opportunities for a client organization or conduct research on a pressing urban planning issue.

Professional Experience Requirement

Students are required to graduate with field experience that is relevant to their degree program. MUP students who enter their program with fewer than two years of full-time relevant experience must show proof of having started an internship or work experience relevant to their area of study prior to enrollment in Capstone.

(Note: MUP students commencing study in the spring semester will require two and one-half years to complete the program due to course sequencing.)

Core Requirements for the Master of Urban Planning

The following are the four required core courses that must be taken by all MUP students, unless waived:

- CORE-GP 1011 Statistical Methods for Public, Nonprofit, and Health Management
(Note: Students who take and pass CORE-GP 1011 Statistical Methods are required to complete an SPSS lab as part of the course and are considered proficient in statistical software. Students who waive out of CORE-GP 1011 Statistical Methods are required to demonstrate their proficiency with statistical software. These students must pass the NONCR-GP 938 SPSS proficiency exam prior to the end of their second semester, or complete PADM-GP 2902 Multiple Regression and Introduction to Econometrics during their degree program at Wagner.)

E. DUAL-DEGREE PROGRAMS

NYU Wagner offers a number of dual degrees in conjunction with other NYU schools. Programming and academic resources can include speaker events, tailored orientations, and designated faculty and administrative advisors.

Graduate Programs

JD/MPA and JD/MUP Programs

The NYU School of Law and NYU Wagner jointly sponsor two dual-degree programs: a Juris Doctor/Master of Public Administration and a Juris Doctor/Master of Urban Planning. Students enrolled in these programs may complete the requirements for both degrees one year earlier than if pursuing the degrees independently.

Applications for admission are made simultaneously to the NYU School of Law and NYU Wagner. Applicants may also begin studies at the School of Law and apply to Wagner during their first or second year. Applicants must meet the admission requirements in each school and must be accepted by each school separately.

In the programs, the first two years are spent at the School of Law, and the remaining years are divided between the two schools, with at least five semesters being completed in the School of Law.

Candidates of dual degrees must maintain a B (3.0) or better average. A minimum of 33 credits must be completed while matriculated in NYU Wagner. All degree requirements must be completed within five years—no credit toward the degree will be granted for course work completed more than five years before granting the degree. This also applies to transfer credit.

MD/MPA Program

Recognizing that physicians increasingly have the need to understand principles of management, finance, and policy, the NYU School of Medicine and NYU Wagner offer a joint Doctor of Medicine and Master of Public Administration degree. Students electing to pursue this dual-degree program may complete the requirements for both degrees one year earlier than if pursuing the degrees independently.

Applications for admission may be made simultaneously to the School of Medicine and NYU Wagner. However, applicants are generally advised to begin studies at the School of Medicine first and apply to Wagner during their third year at the School of Medicine. Applicants must meet the admission requirements in each school and must be accepted by each school separately.

Students enrolled in the program spend the first three years of study at the School of Medicine, completing two years of preclinical instruction and one year of clinical rotations, and enroll in two summer sessions at NYU Wagner. The fourth year is spent in residence at Wagner, and in the fifth year, students return to the School of Medicine to complete their clinical assignments while also completing the Capstone program at Wagner.

Candidates of dual degrees must maintain a B (3.0) or better average. A minimum of 33 credits must be completed while matriculated in NYU Wagner. All degree requirements must be completed within five years—no credit toward the degree will be granted for course work completed more than five years before granting the degree. This also applies to transfer credit.

MPH/MPA Program

The MPH/MPA dual-degree program is offered jointly by NYU Wagner and the NYU College of Global Public Health. The program combines public service and public health in a global focus, and prepares students for leadership roles in community healthcare settings, government agencies, and nonprofit organizations domestically and internationally.

Students in the program enroll full-time, taking courses within the MPA and the MPH Global Health Leadership concentration concurrently and completing the program in three years. Students choose a specialization area within NYU Wagner's MPA-PNP or MPA-HPAM program, and must follow the MPH Global Health Leadership concentration within the MPH program.

Applications for admission are made simultaneously to both schools. Applicants must meet the admission requirements in each school and must be accepted by each school separately.

Candidates of dual degrees must maintain a B (3.0) or better average. A minimum of 33 credits must be completed while matriculated in NYU Wagner. All degree requirements must be completed within five years—no credit toward the degree will be granted for course work completed more than five years before granting the degree. This also applies to transfer credit.

MBA/MPA Program

NYU's Leonard N. Stern School of Business and NYU Wagner jointly sponsor a dual-degree program for individuals interested in both policy issues and business administration. The program allows individuals an integrated and comprehensive course of study within three years of full-time study.

Applications for admission are made simultaneously to both schools. Applicants must meet the admission requirements in each school and must be accepted by each school separately.

Candidates of dual degrees must maintain a B (3.0) or better average. A minimum of 33 credits must be completed while matriculated in NYU Wagner. All degree requirements must be completed within five years—no credit toward the degree will be granted for course work completed more than five years before granting the degree. This also applies to transfer credit.

MSW/MPA Executive Program

NYU's Silver School of Social Work and NYU Wagner jointly sponsor a dual-degree program for individuals interested in careers in the management of social work agencies. The Executive MPA is designed for professionals in a variety of fields who have assumed managerial functions in public service, or are planning such a career move. The Master of Social Work degree prepares graduates for clinical practice with individuals, families, and groups.

Applications for admission are made simultaneously to both schools. Applicants must meet the admission requirements in each school and must be accepted by each school separately.

Candidates of dual degrees must maintain a B (3.0) or better average. A minimum of 21 credits must be completed while matriculated in NYU Wagner. All degree requirements must be completed within five years—no credit toward the degree will be granted for course work completed more than five years before granting the degree. This also applies to transfer credit. The awarding of the Executive MPA depends on prior or concurrent successful completion of the requirements for the MSW degree.

MA/MPA Program

The Skirball Department of Hebrew and Judaic Studies in the NYU Graduate School of Arts and Science and NYU Wagner sponsor a dual-degree program for students who want to study management, finance, and policy, as well as the Jewish past and present. Students completing this program receive a Master of Public Administration in Public and Nonprofit Management and Policy, and a Master of Arts (MA) in Hebrew and Judaic Studies. Students can expect to complete their degrees in two and one-half to three years, attending full-time.

At NYU Wagner, students are expected to complete the required 45 credits, including the core requirements (15 credits), specialization requirements (15 credits), the Taub Seminar (3 credits), the Capstone course (3 credits), and a range of electives (nine credits, six of which come from the Skirball Department). All students in the program take the Taub Seminar in the second semester. Students complete a total of 39 credits at Wagner (including the Taub Seminar and Capstone). Six credits of coursework from the Skirball Department count towards the 45 credits for the MPA degree.

At the Skirball Department, students are expected to complete 30 credits in Hebrew and Judaic studies, including two required courses—Historical Perspectives on the American Jewish Community and The Jewish Community: Classical Institutions and Perspectives (3 credits each). NYU Wagner's Taub Seminar and Capstone course count as six credits toward the 30 required credits. In addition, students must pass a Hebrew language proficiency exam and comprehensive exam.

Applications for admission are made simultaneously to both schools. Applicants must meet the admission requirements in each school and must be accepted by each school separately.

Candidates of dual degrees must maintain a B (3.0) or better average. A minimum of 33 credits must be completed while matriculated in NYU Wagner. All degree requirements must be completed within five years—no credit toward the degree will be granted for course work completed more than five years before granting the degree. This also applies to transfer credit.

More information about dual-degree programs offered by NYU Wagner, including specific requirements, can be found at wagner.nyu.edu/dualdegrees.

Undergraduate Programs

NYU Wagner offers various undergraduate dual-degree programs: a BA/MPA with NYU Abu Dhabi, a BA/MPA and BA/MUP with the College of Arts and Science, a BA/MPA with the Gallatin School of Individualized Study, and a BA/MPA with the Liberal Studies Program. These unique programs combine undergraduate education in the liberal arts with specialized education for the public and nonprofit sectors, and are intended for students planning careers in health services, nonprofit organizations, or urban planning.

Students who enter these programs as soon as they become eligible and who plan carefully can earn both the Bachelor of Arts and the Master of Public Administration or Master of Urban Planning degrees in five years, not the six required if these degrees were earned separately. Students must formally enroll in the dual-degree program while they are still matriculated in their undergraduate school. Admission to the program is open to students who have completed at least 48 credits toward the BA degree. Students may complete a maximum of seven of the 15 courses required for the MPA or the MUP while they are still undergraduates. All course work must be completed with a grade of B (3.0) or better in order for these to be applied toward the MPA or the MUP.

Since a substantial amount of program planning is involved, interested students should apply as soon as they meet eligibility standards. Later applicants, though admitted, may not be able to gain the full benefit of the program acceleration. Students are admitted first to the undergraduate school. During the year in which they intend to graduate from their bachelor's program, they then must apply to Wagner for admission to the graduate degree program. Once a student is admitted to the dual-degree program, he or she may delay entry into Wagner for up to two years after the BA is awarded.

BA/MPA

Although undergraduates with any BA major at the College of Arts and Science or any concentration at the Gallatin School of Individualized Study or the Liberal Studies Program are eligible to apply for the BA/MPA, academically the best fit in the program is achieved by students who have an undergraduate focus in the social sciences and who have also used some of their undergraduate electives to take selected Wagner courses open to undergraduates. At Wagner, students may pursue any of the MPA specializations in the Public and Nonprofit Policy and Management Program or the Health Policy and Management Program. NYU Abu Dhabi undergraduates in the Economics, Political Science, and Social Research and Public Policy majors are eligible to apply for the BA/MPA and pursue any of the MPA specializations in the Public and Nonprofit Policy and Management Program or the Health Policy and Management Program.

BA/MUP Program

The undergraduate College of Arts and Science and NYU Wagner also offer a BA/MUP dual-degree program, which is open to students in any of six relevant majors: Economics, International Relations, Metropolitan Studies, Politics, Sociology, and Urban Design and Architecture. Students who enter this program as soon as they become eligible and plan their course of study carefully can earn both the Bachelor of Arts and the Master of Urban Planning degrees in five years, not the six required if these degrees were earned separately. At Wagner, BA/MUP students may pursue any of the MUP specializations. With Wagner advisement, they may take urban planning core courses as juniors or seniors.

F. PhD PROGRAM IN PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

NYU Wagner offers a Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) program in public administration. The program prepares self-directed, passionate students for scholarly careers in social science research. Graduates pursue careers at academic institutions, think tanks, research firms, and other organization in the public, private, and nonprofit sectors, assuming positions with substantial responsibilities for the supervision and administration of research. PhD study is a demanding and time-consuming endeavor that requires sustained dedication and commitment.

Nature and Purposes of the Program

The doctoral program at NYU Wagner is designed to provide students with the theoretical and methodological training needed to perform original research in public policy, management, or finance. Many students specialize in a substantive area such as health, urban policy, nonprofit, welfare, education, or international development. Doctoral students are encouraged to design a plan of study that draws from several disciplines and take advantage of course offerings at Wagner and across NYU. The program emphasizes teaching and research experience and provides many opportunities for students to become active in the classroom as teaching colleagues and lecturers, and by participating in research projects with individual faculty or through our affiliated research centers. Doctoral study in public administration involves a substantial body of course work designed to provide a breadth and depth of knowledge and research methods.

Program Requirements

Admission

Applicants must submit the prescribed application for the PhD program at NYU Wagner, which is available at wagner.nyu.edu/admissions/application.

The application must include a written statement of purpose for pursuing PhD studies, transcripts for all prior graduate and undergraduate academic studies, official scores for the Graduate Record Examination or the Graduate Management Admission Test, three letters of recommendation, a curriculum vitae, and a completed application form.

A master's degree in public administration or a related field (for example, an MPH or MBA) is preferred for students seeking admission to the PhD program, but exceptional students are admitted without a prior master's degree.

Academic Requirements

The basic academic requirements include course work, a preliminary qualifying examination, comprehensive examinations, a third year paper*, a foreign language requirement, and a dissertation. Candidates for the PhD degree must complete 72 credits of academic work with a 3.3 (B+) or better average. A minimum of 32 credits must be taken as a matriculant in the program, and of these 32 credits at least 16 must be other than core or other introductory courses. (See Transfer Credit and Waivers, below.)

A student may take a maximum of 10 years to complete the degree requirements if all course work is undertaken at NYU as a doctoral candidate. If a student elects to transfer credits earned from a master's program toward the PhD, then the program must be completed within seven years.

PhD Fields

Fields of specialization are defined by a coherent body of knowledge: concepts and theories, research, and professional literature. A field is more than just a cluster of courses. Course work does, however, contribute to identifying theoretical and substantive bases of a field. The fields of specialization are not mutually exclusive. In fact, they tend to overlap even though each field represents a distinctive set of intellectual concerns expressed in theories, topics, approaches, and research emphases.

The doctoral program has seven established fields of study: (1) management, (2) public finance and financial management, (3) public policy, (4) education policy (5) health policy, (6) international development, and (7) urban policy. The Doctoral Program Office has a set of field description documents for the established fields available to assist students in preparation for the comprehensive examinations. A customized field may be developed with the assistance of a Wagner faculty sponsor and must be approved by the Doctoral Board prior to undertaking further course work.

PhD students concentrate in two fields of study, drawn from the seven established fields listed above. The first concentration must be in management, public finance and financial management, or public policy. The second concentration may be selected from the seven fields listed above, or an approved customized field.

*Required for students who enter the program in Fall 2014 or after. Students who entered before Fall 2014 have the option of taking a third comprehensive exam in Research Methods.]

Course Work

Careful planning of course work by PhD students with their faculty adviser is essential to making satisfactory progress in completing the milestones toward the degree. Students are required to complete five courses, each with a grade of B or better. The required courses are PHD-GP 5902 Research Methods, PADM-GP 2172 Advanced Empirical Methods for Policy Analysis, PHD-GP 5905 Qualitative Research Methods, and PHD-GP 5910 and PHD-GP 5911 NYU Wagner Research Colloquium.

In addition, students choose courses organized into research methods and theoretical frameworks modules. Students must fulfill the coursework for at least one research methods module and one theoretical frameworks module. Additional courses are chosen based on students' selected fields of concentration, their individual interests, and the number of credits needed to complete the degree. It is strongly recommended that students begin taking course work in their chosen fields of concentration as early as possible, preferably during the first year of study.

Preliminary Qualifying Examination (PQE)

The PQE is an essay exam constructed to assess students' capability to design a research proposal based on a research problem scenario presented to them. It also tests the capacity for clear and logical expository writing. All PhD students must pass the PQE. It cannot be waived. Students must take the PQE during the spring semester of their first year of matriculation. Only students in good academic standing may take this exam. The PQE may be taken twice; failure on the second attempt will result in termination from the doctoral program. Students who do not successfully pass the PQE on their first attempt will not be allowed to register for additional course work and must retake and pass the exam prior to the fall of their second year.

Comprehensive Field Examinations

Every doctoral student is required to pass two comprehensive examinations. An average of 3.3 (B+) or better in course work taken while matriculated at NYU Wagner is necessary for admission to the examinations. Both comprehensive exams must be taken at the end of the student's second year. One exam must be in management, public policy or public finance, or financial management. The second exam may be in any of the established seven fields above or a customized field. Students who do not successfully pass a comprehensive exam on their first attempt will not be allowed to register for additional course work and must retake and pass the exam prior to the fall of their third year.

Third Year Paper

To demonstrate proficiency in research methods and theoretical frameworks, students must submit a third year paper that draws upon a theoretical framework and employs one of the established research methodologies outlined in the coursework modules. Students must select two faculty members to approve their topic and evaluate the paper.

Foreign Language Requirement

All PhD students are required to demonstrate proficiency in a foreign language. Proficiency can be demonstrated by passing an approved examination given by NYU Wagner or the Graduate School of Arts and Science, or by having completed a full or final intermediate-level, one-year college course in a foreign language with a grade of B or higher within two years of matriculation in the PhD program. In lieu of the language requirement, students may complete an approved advanced statistics course with a grade of B or higher.

Transfer Credit and Waivers

A maximum of 40 credits of transfer credit for course work taken outside New York University is allowable for the PhD. This course work must meet New York University PhD degree time limits, must have been completed with grades of B or higher, and must have been earned at an accredited institution of established academic reputation. Courses proposed for transfer credit must be appropriate and consistent with the required or elective field courses, must not have been repeated while the student was matriculated for the PhD, and must not have been applied as transfer credit toward another degree.

The 40-credit maximum allowance does not mean, however, that 40 credits are always awarded. The actual determination is an integral part of program planning. On recommendation of the faculty adviser and the program director, a student in good academic standing who has passed the preliminary qualifying examination and has an approved program of study may be awarded transfer credit.

The 32 credits in residence for the PhD program cannot be waived by transfer credit or by credit earned for another degree. Decisions regarding transfer credit are not made prior to matriculation, although discussion of potential transfer credit should be included in planning the overall program of study.

Dissertation

The final PhD degree requirement for all students is a dissertation accepted by their faculty committee. This dissertation should represent a substantial scholarly endeavor and provide an original contribution to knowledge. Further details are briefly outlined below.

Dissertation Provisions

Each candidate should prepare and submit a PhD dissertation based on original research. There are five stages in the preparation of this document.

1. Proposal Defense and Formal Proposal Approval

The candidate must submit a written dissertation proposal indicating the scope and methodology of the dissertation, the nature of the original research to be undertaken, and the contribution the dissertation will make to knowledge and understanding in the field. To facilitate this process, the candidate selects a faculty advisory committee on the basis of common intellectual interest in the dissertation topic. This committee comprises the dissertation adviser (chair) and two readers. Two additional faculty members are added later in the process to participate in the defense as external readers. Students are then required to defend their proposals orally before their committee.

committee, a final oral defense before a commission of five faculty members (three original readers and two external readers) is scheduled. A dissertation is accepted when the five members of the dissertation committee indicate their approval in writing on the appropriate form.

4. Job Talk

In addition to the defense, students nearing completion of their dissertation are expected to make a formal presentation (or "job talk") of dissertation-related research at the Wagner Research Colloquium. Students expected to defend their dissertation in a given academic year should contact the faculty coordinators for the Research Colloquium so that time can be set aside for each student's presentation.

2. Research and Writing

Once the dissertation proposal has been approved, the candidate proceeds with research and writing under the guidance of his or her principal adviser and dissertation committee.

5. Publication

Each candidate, prior to the recommendation for his or her degree, must guarantee publication of the dissertation through University Microfilms, Ann Arbor, Michigan. Instructions for preparing the dissertation may be obtained from the assistant director of the doctoral program.

3. Oral Defense

On approval of the chair of the dissertation

G. MASTER OF PHILOSOPHY

PhD candidates who have fulfilled all the requirements for the degree except the dissertation may be eligible for the Master of Philosophy (MPhil) degree. The minimum requirements for the MPhil degree are (1) satisfactory completion of 72 credits approved for PhD study (at least 32 of which must have been earned in residence at New York University) with at least a 3.3 (B+) average, and (2) satisfactory completion of the preliminary qualifying exam, the two comprehensive field exams, and the third year paper. PhD candidates must have also demonstrated proficiency in a foreign language. Students who have failed to meet any of the above criteria are not eligible for the MPhil degree. There must be a one-year interval between the awarding of the MPhil and the PhD.

H. ADVANCED PROFESSIONAL CERTIFICATE PROGRAMS

NYU Wagner's Advanced Professional Certificate programs serve leaders of public, nonprofit, and private sector organizations; entrepreneurs; policymakers; and urban planners—or those with substantial experience wanting more grounding in these areas. These programs update knowledge and skills, fill gaps in prior professional education, and provide training in specialized areas related to healthcare, nonprofit management and finance, public policy analysis, and international economic development.

Overview

The Advanced Professional Certificate programs are intended for professionals seeking a high quality of instruction that is relevant to their work. The programs provide an academic experience that (1) is concentrated in time; (2) can be taken on a part-time basis, largely in the evening; (3) focuses on subject areas with direct professional applicability; (4) consists of course work selected to suit the students' individual priorities; (5) entails enrollment in regular courses taught by regular faculty members; and (6) conforms to normal academic standards leading to an established certificate.

There are three programs:

1. The Advanced Professional Certificate in Public and Nonprofit Management and Policy
2. The Advanced Professional Certificate in Urban Policy and Planning
3. The Advanced Professional Certificate in Health Policy and Management

(Note: The programs are registered by the New York State Department of Education, Office of Higher Education, State Education Building, 89 Washington Avenue, 2nd Floor, West Mezzanine, Albany, NY 12234; 518.474.5851; highered.nysed.gov.)

Academic Requirements

The Advanced Professional Certificate is awarded on completion of course work in a given module. Public administration and urban planning students are required to take and pass four courses (12 credits), at least three of which must be included within that module. The fourth course may be some other appropriate course approved by the student's faculty adviser and offered by NYU Wagner or another graduate division of New York University.

The program is designed to be completed in one year of part-time study, that is, two courses each in two consecutive terms.

Normally, the course work must be completed within three years of the date of initial enrollment to ensure academic continuity and currency, and to preserve the integrity of the awarded certificate.

Certificate candidates must maintain an average of B (3.0) or better in course work and meet other relevant requirements applicable to degree candidates at NYU Wagner.

Public and Nonprofit Management and Policy Modules

Certificate candidates choose, with the approval of a faculty adviser or program administrator, from among the courses listed under each of the modules. One of the four courses (or 3 credits) required for the certificate may be from another field.

LIBRARY AND PROGRAM-RELATED FACILITIES

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES

NYU Wagner students use NYU's Elmer Holmes Bobst Library, which is the flagship of an eleven-library, 5.9 million-volume system that provides students and faculty members with access to the world's scholarship and serves as a center for the University community's intellectual life. Bobst Library houses more than four million volumes, 235,000 serial titles, and over 40,000 linear feet of archives, and provides access to thousands of electronic resources both on-site and to the global NYU community via the Internet. The Library receives 10,000 visits per day and circulates 304,000 items annually. Bobst Library offers approximately 2,500 seats for student study.

The library provides an online research guide for Public Administration, Nonprofit Management, and Urban Planning. The guide lists the library resources primarily available to NYU Wagner students in the Business & Social Science/Documents Center. Students are also advised to consult other Bobst Library research guides for additional information in related areas, including those covering political science and government documents.

The "Wagner Virtual Library" provides access to electronic resources available through Bobst Library on public and nonprofit management, health services management, policy analysis, finance (public and health), urban planning, statistics and data research, and government and international resources (including nongovernmental organizations). The Virtual Library provides access to journals, databases, newspapers and research guides for the NYU and Wagner community, no matter where they are.

NYU Wagner has a designated NYU Bobst Library liaison. The liaison can provide bibliographic instruction to graduate classes, prepare specialized research guides, and arrange appointments for specialized reference services.

Student Areas

At NYU Wagner's location in the Puck Building there are meeting areas and facilities open to students: a student lounge, where students mingle and study; two student project rooms, where student groups assemble to work on team assignments; computer kiosks for students to check email; and an office for the Wagner Student Association to base itself for student access and coordination with other student groups.

Other buildings within NYU—specifically the Kimmel Center for Student Life and Bobst Library—provide excellent space for student meetings, group assembly, and special events.

Classrooms

Most MPA courses are taught in NYU's pool of general purpose classrooms (GPCs). These are primarily in Tisch Hall, the Silver Center, Shimkin Hall, 194 Mercer, and 25 West 4th Street.

All classrooms in these locations are accessible to students with disabilities. Arrangements can be made through the Henry and Lucy Moses Center for Students with Disabilities to develop an accommodation plan devised to meet the specific requirements of individual students.
