New York State Office of Public Safety
Chair, Public Safety Accountability Task Force May 2011-May 2012

Directed integration of evidence-based policies and practices for New York State's eight public safety agencies:

- Established collaboration between New York State and the Pew Charitable Trusts to evaluate effectiveness of criminal justice policies and practices;
- Worked with staff developing strategies for specific new criminal justice initiatives

JEHT Foundation
Vice President 2006–2009

Served as the first Vice President with this foundation that focused on innovative public policy projects, primarily with state governments. With an annual budget of up to $40 million and a staff of 24, JEHT pursued a range of interventions, including providing grants, technical assistance, and strategic planning, to drive advances in the fields of juvenile justice, fair elections, and criminal and international justice:

- Developed program goals and strategies and oversaw all program areas;
- Collaborated with grantees, government officials, academics, and others to set goals and strategies for individual projects;

- With the President, approved all grant recommendations to the Board and staff-level grants; and
- Coordinated with other foundations on strategic initiatives and cooperative ventures.

(The JEHT Foundation closed in 2009 because its sole funder had significant assets invested with Bernard Madoff.)

New York City Campaign Finance Board

Executive Director

1988-2006

Reporting to a non-partisan Board as its first Executive Director, established and staffed a new City agency with an annual budget of up to $77 million (including public funds for candidates) and up to 70 employees. Responsible for:

- Effective enforcement of the New York City Campaign Finance Act and Charter (and related federal and state laws) through administrative procedures and civil and criminal cases, often working in tandem with NYC enforcement agencies;
- Disbursing and accounting for tens of millions of dollars in public funding to candidates for New York City elective offices, including maintaining extensive audit and accounting functions;
- Periodic evaluation of the impact of the Campaign Finance Program, including making recommendations for change in policy and practice and working with the City Council, the Mayor's Office, and New York City Charter Commissions to effectuate change;
- All press and public relations, including extensive contact with editorial boards and appearances in television, radio, and print media.
