

To: Microeconomics students
From: Microeconomics instructors
Re: Preparing for Class, Spring 2012

Welcome to the NYU Wagner core course in microeconomics, we look forward to getting to know you in our classes. In order to prepare for the semester, you should do the following:

1. Read the syllabus: <http://wagner.nyu.edu/syllabus/201201/CORE-GP.1018.001.pdf>
2. Obtain the texts for the class, as listed on the syllabus.
3. Complete the following readings and practice problems before the first class.

Reading: KW Introduction, Chapters 1 and 2 (including appendix).

Practice Problems:

Study Guide - Ch 1 problems 1, 2; Ch 2 problems 2, 3, 13.

KW - Ch 2 problems 2, 4, 5, 6.

4. If you are at all unsure of your basic math, algebra and graphing skills, please review this packet of materials from the Wagner Math Review course:
<http://wagner.nyu.edu/students/services/files/mathReviewPacket.pdf>
You will need a clear and intuitive grasp of these math and graphing concepts to successfully complete this course. These concepts will not be reviewed in class.