Email: kristina.arakelyan@nyu.edu

Office Hours: by appointment

Course Information

Class Meeting Times: Wednesdays, 9/5 – 12/15, 4:55 – 7:25 pm

• Class Location: 60 Fifth Avenue, Room 150

Course Description

This course provides an introduction to the political institutions and the processes through which public policy is made and implemented in the United States. We begin by exploring the Constitutional foundations of public policy in the U.S. and proceed to examine the enduring and changing roles of political institutions—predominantly at the federal but also state and municipal levels—in shaping policy; and, we analyze the structural, political, and social factors supporting and hindering those political institutions. We also look at how citizens, residents, interests groups, lobbyists, and the media influence both public policy and political institutions, discussing social and economic power dynamics—both emerging and entrenched. In the process, we analyze voting, welfare, health, education, labor, fiscal and monitory, national security, environmental, and trade policy.

Course and Learning Objectives

- 1. To understand the politics of the policy process
- To develop conceptual tools to analyze and assess political institutions
- 3. To understand the powers and limitations of political institutions to shape policy
- 4. To understand the effect of the structure of political institutions on policy
- To understand the role of individuals and organized interests in the policy process
- 6. To deconstruct and analyze federal, state, and local policies

Materials and Assignments

All of the readings listed on the syllabus are found online (hyperlinked in the syllabus and on Brightspace).

Course assignments will include:

- Op-Ed (15%): Students will write an op-ed on a policy topic. Due: Monday, September 25 (week 4) via Brightspace by 11:59 pm ET
- Midterm Exam (20%): In class exam covering the material up to this date. Date: Wednesday, October 18 (week 7)
- Group Policy Presentation (20%): Students will work in groups to argue in support of a municipal bill (in class presentation). Date: Wednesday, December 6 (week 13)
- Final Exam (30%): The final exam will take place during finals period. It will be cumulative, but focused on the second half of the course. Final exam date: TBD
- Class Participation (15%): You are expected to be prepared for class discussions and to participate fully. You are encouraged to share your experiences relevant to the topics and cases being explored. Not attending class (barring excused absences) and failing to participate will hurt your participation grade.

Attendance Policy:

Since we only meet once a week, I expect everyone to attend every class. If for any reason you will be unable to attend class, please let me know in advance.

If you are feeling unwell, please rest and focus on your health. Absences on account of illness, quarantine, travel disruptions, and other extenuating circumstances will, of course, be excused.

Late Policy:

Please let me know in advance if you are having difficulty completing an assignment on time so that we can discuss your situation. Assignments that are late without notification will automatically be downgraded 5% per day.

Syllabus Modification:

I reserve the right to modify the syllabus based on input, class pace, and other factors as the term progresses.

NYU Brightspace:

Class announcements, updated assignments, syllabus modifications, etc., will all be made via NYU Brightspace, so please check the website regularly.

Academic Integrity

Academic integrity is a vital component of Wagner and NYU. All students enrolled in this class are required to read and abide by Wagner's Academic Code. All Wagner students have already read and signed the Wagner Academic Oath. Plagiarism of any form will not be tolerated and students in this class are expected to report violations to me. If any student in this class is unsure about what is expected of you and how to abide by the academic code, you should consult with me.

Henry and Lucy Moses Center for Students with Disabilities at NYU

Academic accommodations are available for students with disabilities. Please visit the Moses Center for Students with Disabilities (CSD) website and click on the Reasonable Accommodations and How to Register tab or call or email CSD at (212-998-4980 or mosescsd@nyu.edu) for information. Students who are requesting academic accommodations are strongly advised to reach out to the Moses Center as early as possible in the semester for assistance.

NYU's Calendar Policy on Religious Holidays

NYU's Calendar Policy on Religious Holidays states that members of any religious group may, without penalty, absent themselves from classes when required in compliance with their religious obligations. Please notify me in advance of religious holidays that might coincide with exams to schedule mutually acceptable alternatives.

NYU/Wagner Grading Policy

Per the Wagner grading policy, students will receive grades according to the Wagner grading scale. This information is posted here.

Course Schedule

Readings are due the day they are listed

Week 1: Wednesday, September 6: Let's talk policy!

Learning Objective:

This week, we will cover political culture, looking at education and welfare policy. We will discuss what policy means to individuals and communities as well as municipal, state, and federal institutions. We will also talk about how we learn of policy changes, how we formulate opinions on these changes, and how we might influence policy. Lastly, we will begin to look at public policy rhetoric, to which we will regularly return throughout the course.

Week 2: Wednesday, September 13: The Constitutional Foundations of Public Policy

Learning Objective:

• This week, we will examine the Constitution, the powers to shape policy that it grants elected officials, the provisions it includes to curb those officials, and the safeguards in place to prevent abuses of power. To reinforce these topics, we will analyze national security policy. We will also look at how voters and popular influence impact public policy, examining voting and redistricting policies. Lastly, in looking at healthcare policy, we will explore how the Constitution and history have weighed in on whether federal or state institutions have the upper hand in directing policy.

Week 3: Wednesday, September 20: Civil Rights Policy

Learning Objective:

• This week, we will explore civil liberties in the U.S.—past and present. We will review major Supreme Court decisions on civil rights, along with the 14th Amendment and the 1964 Civil Rights Act. Looking at civil rights enforcement, we will discuss the ways in which people do or do not receive equal treatment. And, we will examine policies that help or hinder access to political and social institutions, including university admissions policies.

Week 4: Wednesday, September 27: The President and Congress on Policy

Learning Objective:

This week, we will explore the roles of the executive and legislative branches in shaping policy and how the power dynamic between the two branches has shifted over the years.
We will also look at the impact of partisanship, economic and social factors, and bureaucracy on the policy process. To illustrate these topics, we will examine food and welfare policy.

Week 5: Wednesday, October 4: The Courts and the People on Policy

Learning Objective:

This week, we will explore how the judiciary branch impacts public policy and how the magnitude of that impact has changed over the past 200 years. As a case study, we will examine campaign financing policy. We will also look at how public opinion impacts the courts and policymakers. And, we will examine political movements that contributed to policy change and those that were unable to achieve sustained advocacy.
