

EXECUTIVE MASTER OF PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION FOR NURSE LEADERS

Gaining knowledge and new skillsets is integral to becoming a more effective nurse leader. This program trains registered nurses in leadership and management roles to make an even greater impact on today's complex healthcare system. The curriculum includes health policy, health administration, and executive-level management, helping nurses advance their careers.

The EMPA-Nurse Leaders program was invaluable in helping me shape and advance my nursing career. With expert guidance from faculty, the Capstone program allowed me to use new skills in real-world situations. NYU Wagner's range of electives, including non-healthcare courses, broadened my scope and gave me insight into new ways to lead change in the world.
