

As of February 3, 2016
NYU Wagner's Hunger and Food Security in Global Perspective (PADM-GP 2250)
at NYU Accra (Summer 2016)

Friday, May 27 (student check-in day) – Wednesday, June 15 (student check-out day), 2016

Friday, May 27      Student Arrival Day

John Gershman and students arrive.

Students are picked up at Accra Kotoka airport throughout the day and evening. Students just arriving will be taken to Golden Tulip Hotel to exchange money. Students can exchange at the airport if there is an ATM, otherwise exchange rate may not be beneficial.

Students who arrived in Ghana before May 27 must meet on May 27 at 12:00pm at the Golden Tulip Hotel, Liberation Road. NYU Accra will pick up the group at 12:00pm and bring them to NYU Accra.

Students check into double rooms at NYU Accra throughout the day. NYU Accra's Community Resource Assistant (CRA, similar to an RA) will provide students with room assignments, keys, tour of the residence, and orientation packets. CRAs will also photocopy each student's NYU ID. Students must remember to bring their NYU ID to Ghana. Students may be taken to the FOREX to exchange dollars for cedis. Students who arrive in time will go to Koala market. A phone vendor who rents phones may come at 5:30pm to rent phones to students.
