The doctoral program prepares self-directed, passionate students to conduct rigorous, cutting edge, original research that has an effective impact on today’s most pressing public policy and administration challenges. Through theoretical and methodological training, we teach our students to ask questions and produce insights that affect public and nonprofit policies and programs. The degree offers:

- An INTERDISCIPLINARY approach, drawing on economics, political science, sociology, psychology, and organization studies, among other fields.

- CUSTOMIZATION, where students design an individual plan of study and identify key research questions, guided by a faculty advisor in that same subject area.

- RESEARCH AND TEACHING opportunities, including working with individual faculty members and research centers.

RESEARCH CAREERS IN PUBLIC SERVICE

Alumni pursue careers at academic institutions, think tanks, research firms, and other organizations in the public and private sectors, including assuming positions with substantial responsibilities for the supervision and administration of research.

“At NYU Wagner, I received fantastic mentorship from my advisors, gained invaluable research experience, and worked with other doctoral students on a daily basis. I had the opportunity to work as a research assistant at a research center, which provided me with a great support system and a network of future colleagues.”

- SARAH CORDES, PhD 2015
  Assistant Professor of Educational Leadership
  Department of Policy, Organizational & Leadership Studies, Temple University
ACADEMIC OVERVIEW

Students interested in conducting research in the following areas are encouraged to apply:

- Education policy
- Health policy
- International development
- Management
- Public finance and financial management
- Public policy
- Urban policy

The program of study includes coursework, a preliminary qualifying exam, two comprehensive field exams, a third-year research paper, regular participation in the NYU Wagner Research Colloquium, and a dissertation based on independent and original research defended before a faculty committee.

A comprehensive program overview can be found at WAGNER.NYU.EDU/DOCTORAL.

FINANCIAL AID

All incoming students receive full tuition remission, student health insurance, a $1,000 start up grant, and a four-year stipend for living expenses.

RANKED #6 AMONG SCHOOLS OF PUBLIC AFFAIRS BY U.S. NEWS & WORLD REPORT

APPLICATION COMPONENTS:

- U.S. bachelor’s degree or equivalent; master’s degree preferred
- Application
- Transcript from all undergraduate and graduate institutions attended
- GRE or GMAT test score report
- Academic curriculum vitae
- Three letters of recommendation
- Statement of purpose
- Writing sample
- TOEFL or IELTS Exam (if bachelor’s program not conducted in English)
- International Credential Evaluation (required for students whose bachelor’s degree was not received in the U.S. to assess U.S. bachelor’s equivalency and to do a course-by-course evaluation)
- $85 application fee

APPLICATION & DEADLINES:

Apply for Fall 2016 at WAGNER.NYU.EDU/APPLY.

Deadline: DECEMBER 1, 2015

LEARN MORE:

To attend an event, visit a class, read school news, or watch a WAGTalk video, visit WAGNER.NYU.EDU.

QUESTIONS?

wagner.admissions@nyu.edu
212.998.7414