NEW YORK UNIVERSITY
ROBERT F. WAGNER GRADUATE SCHOOL OF PUBLIC SERVICE

CORE-GP.1021 FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT
Fall 2016
Professors Calabrese, Shiau, and West

COURSE DESCRIPTION

In this introductory core course in financial management, students will learn the fundamentals of budgeting and accounting for public, health, and not-for-profit organizations. Through readings, lectures, real-world case studies, and assignments, students will gain an understanding of how to use financial information in organizational planning, implementation, control, reporting, and analysis. In addition, students will develop their spreadsheet skills by using Microsoft Excel to perform financial calculations and create financial documents.

The first half of the course focuses on managerial accounting, a set of tools used by managers for internal planning, implementation, and control. Topics in this portion of the course include operating budgets, cash budgets, break-even analysis, cost allocation, variance analysis, the time value of money, capital budgeting, and long-term financing.

The second half of the course focuses on financial accounting, a set of tools used by managers and external observers for reporting on and analyzing an organization’s financial position and performance. Topics in this portion of the course include the preparation and analysis of financial statements (balance sheet, activity statement, and cash flow statement), ethics in financial management, government accounting, and government financial condition analysis.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

By the conclusion of the semester, students will learn to:

1. Prepare organizational budgets on the accrual and cash bases of accounting.
2. Make resource allocation and pricing decisions using break-even analysis, the time value of money, cost allocation, and variance analysis.
3. Prepare balance sheets, activity statements, and cash flow statements using Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) for not-for-profit and healthcare organizations, and analyze these statements.
4. Interpret and analyze governmental financial statements that have been prepared on the accrual and modified accrual bases of accounting.
5. Use Microsoft Excel and a financial calculator to prepare financial statements and perform financial analyses.

PREREQUISITES

The only prerequisite for this course is a basic familiarity with Excel. If you have limited or no experience using Excel, we strongly recommend that you register for the Excel instruction module (NONCR-GP.932), which meets for several weeks at the beginning of the semester. Please note that it is up to each student to determine whether or not he or she is familiar with Excel; taking the Excel module and passing the Excel proficiency exam are not prerequisites for enrollment in this course.
COURSE MATERIALS

Textbook

Calculator

You must have a calculator that can do time value of money calculations (it must have buttons labeled PV, FV, PMT, and NPV). If you do not already have such a calculator, please buy the HP10 BII (or the HP10 BII+). This calculator is available at the NYU Computer Store (inside the NYU Bookstore) and many other locations such as Staples and Amazon.com. If you choose to use a different financial calculator, please be advised that the professors, TCs, and tutors will not be able to assist you with your calculator. Also, please note that you will not be permitted to use calculators with graphing capabilities during the exams.

COURSE WEBSITE

The course website can be found on the NYU Classes system, accessible via the “Academics” tab on NYU Home (http://home.nyu.edu). Throughout the semester, we will post documents such as lecture slides, homework solutions, and practice exams to this site. In addition, we will occasionally send emails about course logistics to your NYU email account. Therefore, you should check both the course website and your NYU email account on a regular basis.

GRADING

Your course grade will be determined as follows:

- Homework Assignments: 20%
- Midterm Examination: 40%
- Final Examination: 40%
HOMEWORK ASSIGNMENTS

There are a total of 12 assignments, each worth 1% to 2% of your course grade.

Assignments are graded on the basis of completeness rather than accuracy. If you complete the entire assignment, you will receive full credit even if your work contains errors. If you do not complete the entire assignment, you will not receive full credit.

Assignments are to be submitted online via NYU Classes before lecture. Assignments and templates (when applicable) can be found on NYU Classes.

Assignments will not be accepted by email, nor will they be accepted during or after lecture. Late assignments will not receive any credit except in extreme circumstances such as serious medical emergencies.

You must complete the quantitative parts of your assignments in Excel and the written parts in Excel or Word. Templates will be provided for some assignments (posted on NYU Classes).

Each student must write and submit his or her own assignments. We encourage you to work on the assignments in small groups, but two or more students turning in identical homework assignments constitutes cheating and will be reported to the administration and subject to disciplinary action.

EXAMS

The midterm and final exam will each last two hours and thirty minutes. You are expected to complete the exam with your registered course section. The final exam is not cumulative; it covers the second half of the course only. You may bring a financial calculator (but graphing calculators are not permitted) and one 8 ½-by-11 page of notes (front and back) to both the midterm and the final exam. Your notes may be either typed or handwritten. There are no restrictions on the font size or the contents of your page of notes. You will be asked to hand in your notes with the completed exam. Students with disabilities should contact both the Head TC and the Moses Center for Students with Disabilities (http://www.nyu.edu/csd) as soon as possible, but no later than two weeks before the exam, to make arrangements.
COURSE RULES AND REQUIREMENTS

To do well in this course, you must devote a minimum of ten hours per week (three hours of lecture, one hour of discussion session, and about six hours of reading, studying, and working on assignments). Please keep in mind that the material presented in the course builds cumulatively. Do not fall behind. Students who fall behind find it very hard to catch up.

If you need to miss class, you do not need to notify your professor. We do not take attendance; however, you are responsible for finding out what you missed—including any announcements made in class—from one of your classmates. If possible, you should try to attend a different lecture that week. You do not need to ask for that professor’s permission in advance.

There are no extra credit assignments and no make-up exams. Please note the dates of the midterm and final exams on the following page; if you have a conflict please do not enroll in the course at this time.

If you have a logistical question, please check the syllabus and website. You can find the answer to almost every conceivable question there. For any remaining questions, please contact the Head TC.

The Wagner School has a strict policy regarding incompletes. The grade of "Incomplete Pass" will only be available in extreme circumstances such as serious medical emergencies. Students may withdraw from the course up until the date set by the Registrar. Students who withdraw will receive a grade of “W” and will have to pay for the course again when they retake it.

Academic dishonesty will not be tolerated. Cheating, forgery, plagiarism and collusion in dishonest acts undermine the Wagner School’s educational mission and your own personal and intellectual growth. You are expected to bear individual responsibility for your work and to uphold the ideal of academic integrity. Any student who compromises or devalues the academic process will be reported to the administration and be subject to disciplinary action.

COURSE OUTLINE

Reading assignments must be completed before each lecture. (Note that you have a reading assignment for the first class!) You are not required to read the chapter appendices unless specifically noted below. Handout readings can be found on the course website.

Homework assignments consist primarily of analytical problems based on the previous week’s readings and lecture, but also include a few short-answer questions about the current week’s readings. All assignments can be found on the course website. Solutions will be posted each week after the last lecture has met (Thursday nights).

Discussion session practice problems are designed to help you prepare for the homework assignments. Your TC will bring copies of all practice problems to discussion session, so you do not need to bring your textbook, but the problems are listed below in case you either want to start thinking about them in advance or you cannot make it to discussion session and want to solve the problems on your own. Most problems are from the textbook, but in a few cases they are from handouts distributed in discussion session and posted on the website.
