

MASTER OF URBAN PLANNING

BLENDING DESIGN, POLICY, AND MANAGEMENT TO BUILD THRIVING CITIES

As over half of the world's population lives in cities, urban planners are more important than ever. This program prepares future public service leaders to design and build urban landscapes in the context of the real world—all within the living laboratory of New York City. The degree offers:

- A UNIQUE BLEND of planning, management, and policy, so students understand market realities, financial constraints, political hurdles, and resource limitations, and how to address them.
- PRACTICAL TRAINING through the one-year client-based Capstone project, studying with faculty at the forefront of the field, and being immersed in the urban landscape of New York City.
- A BROAD AND DEEP CURRICULUM where students have the opportunity to specialize in environment, infrastructure, and transportation; economic development and housing; or international development planning.

A CAREER IN URBAN PLANNING— LOCALLY AND GLOBALLY

Our graduates make an impact in transportation, housing and neighborhood development, and environmental sustainability, among other areas. They pursue careers in NYC, as well as other cities across the country and the world.

"As an urban planning program uniquely situated in a school of public policy, NYU Wagner provides future planners with a broad and expansive skill set. The networks and connections I developed at NYU Wagner help me to better serve the public and to make New York a healthier and greener city."
